SPECIFIC COMMENTS FOR Nursing Technology

College Alg I for Health (MATH 108H) must be taken prior to NT 210. Students may take Algebra I (MATH108) and Pharmacology Math (MATH 104) or Algebra I (MATH 108) and Clinical Math Skills (NT 106) as a substitute for MATH 108H. Students placing in MATH 101 and/or MATH 102 are required to complete those courses prior to enrollment in MATH 108H.

Annual certification in CPR for the health professional is a prerequisite for all clinical courses starting with NT 111 and NT 201. This certification may be obtained through Hocking College course EM 133 (CPR for the Professional Rescuer), Red Cross or American Heart Association (Course C), or the National Safety Council Green Cross Certification.

* These courses are not included in some practical nursing programs. They may be taken prior to enrollment. If not, they must be taken in addition to second-year work. Intro to Psyc will be scheduled with the Enrichment quarter. Abnormal Psyc and COMM II will be scheduled in the fifth quarter. Develop. Psychology will be scheduled in the sixth quarter.

** These courses may be taken prior to entering the Enrichment quarter.

LPNs may have credit for Sociology of Family and Community Health from their PN programs and should check with the Associate Dean before registering.

Credit by advanced standing or transfer credit will be assigned after successful completion of all Enrichment courses and enrollment in Quarter 5.

Practicum and Co-Op Work Experiences: It is required in most programs and recommended in a few programs that you complete a practicum or cooperative work experience prior to graduation. These experiences involve an on- or off-campus work experience integrated with academic instruction in which learned concepts are applied to practical situations within your technology.

Additional Courses: You may take special topics (290) courses (1-5 credits) or individualized study (291) courses (1-5 credits) in addition to the traditional course of study listed.

GENERAL CURRICULUM COMMENTS:

*Course fees are in addition to tuition and will automatically be added to the student's account at the time of course registration. Course fees include fees for: 1) consumable materials used in the course; 2) technical equipment, computers, and software used in the course; and, 3) fees for national and international experiences, staffing of elective courses, development of alternative modes of instruction, low student to faculty ratios to assure student safety or enhance learning, transportation, and malpractice liability insurance in appropriate programs.

Communications Course Placement: Your Communications course sequence will be determined by assessment (ASSET or COMPASS) of reading and writing levels. Depending upon the assessment, you may be required to take COMM 044 (Fundamentals of Reading and Writing), COMM 054 (Communications Reading and Writing), and/or COMM 121 (Communications I) as prerequisites to COMM 122 (Communications II). Courses which are prerequisites to COMM 122 are required developmental courses and the credit hours must be added to the printed course of study.

Math Course Placement: Your math course sequence will also be determined by assessment (ASSET or COMPASS). Depending upon the assessment, you may be required to take MATH 102 (Pre-Algebra) or both MATH 101 (Basic Mathematics) and MATH 102 (Pre-Algebra) as a prerequisite to MATH 108 (Introduction to Algebra) or MATH 104 (Pharmacology Math). MATH 101 and MATH 102 are required developmental courses and the credit hours must be added to the printed course of study.

Understanding the Course of Study

The following information is provided to assist in understanding the course of study.

Quarter: Hocking College operates on a quarter system. The quarter is the period of time in which most courses are scheduled. Quarters are generally 11 weeks in length.

Course Number: The two, three or four letters and the three digits (for example, COMM 122) which identify the course being offered. The course number corresponds to the course description, a brief course outline of the subject matter of the course, in the course of study/course description catalog and on the web at www.hocking.edu.

PACE Courses: Courses preceded by a 'P' are offered in a PACE format. PACE courses allow you to enroll in the course any time the college is in session and to proceed through the course at your own rate of speed. The PACE labs (classrooms) are staffed with full-time instructors who are available to work with you on a one-on-one basis as needed to achieve the stated competencies. In most cases you may choose to complete the course in a traditional method or on PACE.

Online Courses: Courses preceded by a 'W' are offered in an online format via the World Wide Web and are taught by full-time faculty. In most cases you may choose to complete the course in a traditional method or online. Course fees for online courses are higher than fees listed on this course of study.

Type: All courses are identified as either technical (T) or general (G). Technical courses provide technical skills and knowledge required for career competency. General courses provide the common skills required in all work places and serve as a foundation for the technical program.

Credit Hours: The credit is a standard unit of measurement for college work. The number of contact hour per credit hour is determined by the type of activities (class hours, laboratory hours or practicum experiences).

Class Hours: Time scheduled as part of the instructional plan of most courses utilizing any combination instructional methods such as presentation, directed discussion, demonstration or use of audiovisual materials.

Lab Hours: Time scheduled as part of the instructional plan for the practical application of the theory presented in courses. Laboratory activities may include conducting experiments, practicing procedures or skills, or clinical or field experiences.
